

BANDVULC
— MORE THAN A TYRE

Bandvulc Group (now part of the Continental Tyres Group) have been using Singlepoint for a number of years, for various modules, with 50+ users. Automated audit scheduling and execution in Singlepoint has allowed Bandvulc to transform their entire audit process, covering Quality, Health and Safety and Environmental. Working hand-in-hand with the Audit App for tablet devices, the Bandvulc SHEQ team can take their audit process on the road with them whether they are connected to the main networked system or not.

Non-conformities are seamlessly streamed into the integrated CAPA module in Singlepoint, allowing for the complete end-to-end process to be managed within one system. Real-time reports have greatly increased management's ability to make informed and effective decisions.

We spoke with Justin Holloway, SHEQ Manager for Bandvulc Group, who said:

"We implemented Singlepoint 6 years ago, primarily for internal and health and safety audit management, corrective actions and document control. It is very simple to administer with easy to manage permissions and control and it is easy to see who is doing what; it's totally transparent. Audits were our main reason for implementing the system and Singlepoint has helped primarily in internal audits and compliance with ISO 9001 and ISO 14001.

As there are automatic audit trails, it also helps with external audits, and out in the field we are able to utilise the iPad app which is extremely useful for Health & Safety audits as we can attach photos and do the whole of the audit off-site and not have to be connected. There is also very little IT involvement, apart from server maintenance and being a web-based system, it's easy to access when travelling. Finally, it is adaptable - workflows could be adapted for Health & Safety processes, audits, ISO conformance, data governance quality standards, etc".

"Coupled with a fast reaction with regard to issues and tickets, I would recommend Synchronology and their Singlepoint software".

We are delighted to have helped Justin and his team to streamline their business processes and look forward to many more years of working with them.

Call 01628 968899 now to arrange your free product demonstration or email enquiries@synchronology.co.uk